For Immediate Release Carthage, NC After careful consideration of several highly qualified candidates, Moore County Manager, Cary McSwain, selected Randy Gould as the new Public Works Director. Educated at North Carolina State University he received his B.S. in Civil Engineering and Master of Environmental Engineering from Old Dominion University. In addition, he is the current President of the Central Carolina Chapter of the Professional Engineers of North Carolina, along with membership in the American Water Works Association, American Consulting Engineering Council to include a few. Mr. Gould comes to Moore County with over 33-years of experience as a professional engineer. He has been involved with numerous accomplishments such as complex water and wastewater projects throughout North Carolina and Virginia. Many of his previous career interests have involved working with local governments, land developers and state/federal agencies.

Randy brings Moore County a strong background and experience which will only add to the “One-Team-One-Mission” effort.
